

MEDIA TRAY DAMPER

A media handling device comprises a frame, a media tray, and a damper. The media tray is mountable to the frame for pivotal movement between a first 5 position and a second position relative to the frame. The damper is disposed on the frame and configured for maintaining frictional engagement with the media tray.